

Our environmental, social, and societal commitment

At the heart of our guesthouse, we are committed to offering much more than just a stay: an authentic experience, respectful of the environment, and deeply rooted in our region.

Our commitment to the environment

We make every effort to preserve the natural environment around us. We favor renewable energy (solar panels), limit our water and electricity consumption, and adopt eco-responsible practices in our daily lives. We favor local and seasonal products for our breakfasts and dinners, while reducing plastic and waste.

Our social commitment

Our guesthouse is, above all, a place of welcome and sharing. We strive to create a warm and inclusive environment, where everyone feels heard and respected. We support local crafts and producers, and we showcase the tourist attractions of our beautiful region and the expertise of our local partners.

Our social commitment

We believe in the positive role we can play in our community. We collaborate with local associations and support community and cultural initiatives. We invite our guests to discover the heritage, traditions, and human richness of our region, in order to contribute together to a more sustainable and responsible dynamic.
